Brother and sister save family from house fire

HANNAH MIRSKY

A 7-year-old girl and her 8-year-old brother alerted their mum and siblings to a fire in their house in Haverhill last week.

Emma Mattin, 29, was asleep in the house in Wellum Close when her daughter Katherine woke her up at 6.38am on Thursday.

"She was shouting and then she slapped me round the face to wake me up," said Emma. "She was shouting: 'Phone 999, phone the fire brigade.'"

"I went to look in my son's room, and that's when I saw the fire. I hadn't heard the smoke alarm."

Bradley, 8, had woken first and seen the fire, and woken his sister Katherine, who rushed to wake her mum.

Emma's two younger daughters, Hermione, 5, and Lilly-May, 3, were also both asleep.

"It was a huge fire," Emma said. "Opening the door to that room smoked the place out."

"I had to go upstairs to get my youngest daughters and we got out."

Emma called the fire service and made sure everyone was out of the house.

"I tried to get my keys when the fire service arrived, but I couldn't get in because it was so black with smoke," she said.

Firefighters went into the house through the rear, and extinguished the fire. They rescued the family's cat, Phoebe, and her three kittens. Their dog Gizzy also escaped unhurt.

The East of England Ambulance Service sent two hazardous area response team vehicles to the fire.

They treated all of the members of the family for smoke inhalation.

None of them needed to be taken to hospital.

Neither Emma nor the fire service have any idea how the fire might have started.

Emma said: "It's amazing really, what Katherine and Bradley did. I've told them they've done so well."

The house was so badly damaged that the family have not been able to move back.

The fire service's community safety department have rehomed them to another house in Haverhill until they can move back in.

Emma said: "The house was very badly damaged. We've lost everything. I want to say thank you to everyone who's donated stuff to us. People I don't even know have come forward."

"My partner has been amazing, and so has my mum."

"I really want to say thank you to all the family and friends who have helped."

"We're doing ok. We're getting there."

If you have anything you can donate to Emma and her family to help them out, you can send her a message on Facebook at www.facebook.com/emma.mattin.9.

ANNIVERSARY: The Chalkstone Estate under construction half a century ago.

Celebrating estate's 50th anniversary

HANNAH MIRSKY

THE Chalkstone Estate in Haverhill turns 50 next year – and now's your chance to share your memories.

The Haverhill Local History Group is preparing to put on an exhibition celebrating the anniversary at the Haverhill Arts Centre.

The exhibition will take place in January, but before then members of the history group are asking residents to come forward with their memories and photographs of the estate.

History group archivist Tony Turner said about the project: "We are certain Chalkstone residents, both current and past, have their own photos. We would very much like to copy these and add them to our collection as a permanent record of the growth of the town."

History group volunteer Marty House said: "We also hope that people will have a chance to share their memories of when they came to the town."

"The Chalkstone Estate is in the news currently: Strassbourg Square is being renovated, it's changing, it's evolving.

"People like to remember their past, and now's the time for us to remember the Chalkstone Estate."

The group has been in touch with the Chalkstone Tenants and Residents Association (CATRA), and their members will be attending a CATRA meeting, where they hope to engage with residents and hear their stories.

The meeting will take place at the Chalkstone Community Centre at 7.30pm on June 3 and all are welcome to attend.

You can also get in touch with the Haverhill Local History Group by visiting the local history centre, which is located in the Haverhill Arts Centre.

It is open from 2pm to 4pm on Thursdays and Fridays, and 10.30am to 3.30pm on Saturdays.

You can call them on (01440) 714962, or email haverhillhistuk@gmail.com.

Teenagers campaign for a new skate park

HANNAH MIRSKY

A CAMPAIGN for a new skate park in Haverhill has been started – by a group of teenagers.

The group, who are all pupils at Castle Manor Academy and are aged 15 and 16, set up an online poll last Monday to gauge public opinion on a skate park in Haverhill. It has already received nearly 600 responses.

The options the poll offers are improving the current skate park, building a new indoor skate park or building one outdoors.

Of the responses so far, 40 per cent are in favour of having a new skate park indoors.

The group has also emailed a variety of youth workers and councillors setting out their proposals.

The email says: "If there was a good skate park in Haverhill then people would come from other places to ride here."

"To make it would cost, but a lot of crime does go on within Haverhill with youngsters or teenagers, and a decent place for people to hangout or just ride, would get most of them going there near enough every day."

The teenagers plan to hold fundraising events to raise money towards the cost of the skate park. They hope to be able to raise half of whatever the skate park would cost.

They also suggest that a small fee could be charged for entry to raise money for the upkeep and security of the park.

One member of the group, Josh Taylor, said the existing outdoor skate park in Howe Road was just not suitable.

He said: "It doesn't seem like there's a lot of people who go down there, but there's still a lot of people who ride bikes."

"It's not used for the right reasons. There's quite a lot of young people who go out of town instead of riding here."

He says that young people use it as a "doss area" to drink and smoke, rather than to skate and ride bikes.

The campaign's email outlines proposals to have a police officer or council employee monitoring the new skate park, to make sure it is not abused.

The email reads: "We've thought through everything and it would work just with some help."

The teenagers have also contacted county councillor Julian Flood.

Cllr Flood said: "My first thoughts are that this is hugely ambitious, and it's good to see a group ready to put their own efforts behind the idea."

"They will be able to pick the brains of the Bury team who drove forward their own scheme. Then we need to get the borough council on board."

"We keep being told that the recession is over and that the economy is expanding."

SKATES ON: Josh Taylor, left, and Shane Pryce, above, are two of the teenagers campaigning for a skate park.

Perhaps it's time for some of that prosperity to be spent for the good of young people in Haverhill."

He has contacted a number of other UKIP councillors and the Haverhill town clerk Colin Poole about the issue.

Village prepares for week of fund-raising

THE village of Kedington is preparing for a week-long fundraising extravaganza this summer.

The Kedington Meadowlark is an annual event to raise money for the Kedington Community Association.

This is the 47th year it has run, and the theme for this year's fundraising event is "Myths and Legends".

Steve Brown, chairman of the Kedington Community Association, said: "There's a range of activities, and something for everyone, from young to more mature ages."

"There's a good mix of things, and I am hoping they are all going to be popular. It will be a fantastic day out."

"This is our main fundraising activity for the year, and we are very much looking forward to it. We appreciate all the help and support we've been given."

The events run from June 5 to June 13.

The Kedington Community Centre will host a bingo event on June 5, a blues band on June 6, and a carpet bowls competition on June 9, all at 7.30pm.

Other events will include a children's duathlon on the Great Meadow from 2pm on June 7, and a darts, pairs and cribbage tournament from 7.30pm on June 10 at the Barnardiston Arms.

But the main event will be the Meadowlark day on June 13. This fete will be opened by this year's Miss Meadowlark, Ella Ketteridge.

It will run from 1pm, and will include a walking pageant, with participants dressed up, as well as a dog show.

There will also be food stalls, a beer tent, music, and events for children such as a bouncy castle and Punch and Judy shows.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Co-op store site under offer

THE building in Haverhill's Jubilee Walk which used to house a Co-Operative supermarket is under offer.

A spokesman for the Co-Operative confirmed the shop was under offer this week.

It has been empty since the Co-Operative closed down in 2011.

Fishing tackle shop

LAST week's Weekly News featured an article about a new fishing tackle trailer which was opening in Tesco's car park.

The article incorrectly stated that there was no other tackle shop in Haverhill.

In fact, the Haverhill Gun Shop, based in Petco, in Sturmer Road, has been selling fishing tackle for around three years.

We apologise for the error.

Come along to a village fete

WEST Wrating is holding a village fete next Saturday, June 6.

The fete will take place from 1pm at the village's Hall Barn.

There will be music from the Haverhill Silver Band, and refreshments including a barbecue, beer and summer cocktails.

There will also be a raffle and a white elephant stall, and a bouncy castle and face painting for children.

Entry costs £2 and children under 16 go free. The money raised will go to the village church.

Open mic night at pub

AN open mic night is being held at the Red Lion Sturmer next Thursday, June 4.

All are welcome, and the night begins at 8.30pm.

THE beneficiaries of this year's Haverhill Summer Bash have been announced.

The charity event will be raising money for LAMP H Parent and Toddler Group, the Scouts and Guides, Haverhill Community First Responders and the Salvation Army.

More beneficiaries may be announced in the run-up to the Bash, which will take place on Sunday, July 19 on Haverhill Recreation Ground.

Events planned for the event include a baby show, cake show, flower show and dog show as well as circus entertainment and sporting activities.

There will be a car show which will include a yellow Del Boy three wheeler.

More events will be announced over the coming weeks.

The organisers of the bash are also looking for volunteers to help everything go smoothly on the day.

They need 15 volunteers in total, to cover an early, lunch, and late shift.

To get involved, you can email haverhillsummerbash@outlook.com. You can also visit www.joininuk.org/club-profiles/haverhill-summer-bash/.

Four managers, three mountains, one goal . . .

HANNAH MIRSKY

FOUR supermarket employees are preparing to climb three of the highest mountains in the country for charity.

Haverhill Sainsbury's managers Adam Nichols, Gary McMaster, Alan Fancy and Robert Mutimer, are taking on the Three Peaks Challenge on June 9.

They will climb Ben Nevis in Scotland, Snowdon in Wales, and Scafell Pike in the Lake District within the space of 24 hours.

They are aiming to raise £1,500 in sponsorship money for St Nicholas Hospice Care, which is Haverhill Sainsbury's chosen charity of the year.

The charity provides support and care for people with serious and life-shortening illnesses, and runs the Burton Centre in Haverhill's Camps Road.

So far the hikers have raised more than £800, and expect to have more donations coming in.

Adam said: "We were looking for something different we could do to raise money. We discussed it just before Christmas, and we all said: 'Yes, let's do it.' We started our training just after Christmas."

Gary said: "The reason we chose the hospice is that it's a local charity and it

CHARITY CHALLENGE: Gary McMaster, Adam Nichols, Alan Fancy and Robert Mutimer pictured on their practice hike up Snowdon for the Three Peaks Challenge serves a multitude of illnesses.

"Everybody's got someone in their life who has been affected by some kind of illness. We thought it would be great to raise some money for them."

The intrepid managers have been training in the gym, and took a group trip to Snowdon on April 29 to practise hiking together.

They managed to complete the climb in just 3 hours 20 minutes, in spite of encountering extreme weather conditions.

Wales was brilliant."

Adam said: "I think all four of us are in good spirits. The extra work in the gym and all of us going to Snowdon together has put us in quite good spirits."

"We know what one of the mountains is like now."

Although the men have done some hiking before, Adam says none of them has tried anything as intense as the Three Peaks Challenge.

"This is pretty much starting from scratch," he said.

Gary added: "I'm 44 and I've never done anything like this before. My own personal goal is another reason for doing it."

On June 9, they will start with Ben Nevis in Scotland, then travel down to Scafell Pike in the Lake District, and finish with the Snowdon hike which they have already practised.

In total, they will travel 450 miles, walk 25 miles, and the total height climbed will be 11,000 feet.

Alan's wife has volunteered to drive the hikers from mountain to mountain.

"We'll be in the back, hopefully getting some sleep between mountains!" said Gary.

FRIENDSHIP: Ian Withers with schoolfriend Sara Nicholls and her daughter Bella

Exercise bike challenge for hospital ward

HOW far would you go to help a friend? For one Haverhill man, the answer was obvious: 100 miles.

Ian Withers, 28, took on a fundraising challenge last Friday which saw him cycle the equivalent of almost four marathons on an exercise bike.

Ian, an accountant who lives in Haverhill's Beaumont Court, was fundraising for the C2 children's ward in Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge.

He was inspired by his friends Sara and Dan Nicholls, whose daughter has been treated at the ward for a rare blood condition.

Ian, who went to school with Sara, said: "I have three little nieces and the thought of them going into hospital – it would be hard."

"I used to work at Addenbrookes, so I know how hard it is for staff there."

He chose the exercise bike challenge because he is not an experienced cyclist and wanted something to

He started on the bike at 8am on Friday morning, and did not finish until 4.20pm.

The eight-hour challenge took place in the foyer at the Haverhill Leisure Centre.

"I thought I could do some cycling, and if I put it in the reception area, at least that way people will know I did it," said Ian. "I wanted to have a challenge that really was a challenge."

He collected money from passers-by as he was cycling, and raised £118.99 on the day. Added to the donations he received online, this brought him up to a grand total of £534.04.

Sara and Dan Nicholls went to support him and supplied him with refreshments as he cycled.

They have been fundraising for the C2 ward since their daughter Bella was treated there for a condition called neutropenia, which makes her susceptible to infection.

The ward treats children with blood conditions, including several with leukaemia.

Ian's challenge is part of a series of fundraising events they are holding for the ward.

The Nicholls family also held a raffle and clairvoyancy evening in April, and collected at Haverhill Sainsbury's on Saturday.

In August, Dan is taking on a 16 mile run from Haverhill to Addenbrooke's.

The Nicholls family have so far raised an amazing £2,229.98.

In spite of aches and pains, Ian has not been put off cycling.

He said: "I'm thinking of doing more cycling. I'm hopefully doing the London Night Ride next year."

To donate, visit www.justgiving.com/Ian-Withers1/ or www.justgiving.com/sara-nicholls2/.

The money will go towards the Addenbrooke's Charitable Trust.

Could you be part of the Addams family? Centre Stage wants to hear from you...

The theatre company will be holding a sing-through and teaching a dance routine from the show.

Auditions for the show will take place on June 16 and 18.

This should have been addressed sooner

WITH regard to your article "Forced out of my house by the noise of lorries," News, Thursday, May 21, 2015.

I feel I must comment on Culina's General Manager, Steve Morris' statement concerning the lorry drivers arriving from the continent that "The facilities for them in and around Haverhill are limited" and ask the question why was this not addressed when Culina moved into its depot and certainly why not since?

Surely they knew (or should have known) the volume of traffic which would descend upon the Haverhill area?

I appreciate the employment that Culina has generated here, but these matters must be its concern, now and in the future.

Lorries are causing misery to the town

I WOULD like to have my say on a few issues which are bugging me and the one at the top of the list is last week's story about lorry drivers and the problems they are causing in Haverhill.

I would like to thank Culina for coming to town and creating jobs but it is creating misery for residents with lorries parking in residential areas in and around town.

Surely this is an oversight by Culina and Nic Rumsey (the land agent) and the local planners that sufficient facilities for the lorries hasn't been taken care of.

There is enough land in front of the massive warehouse to accommodate these lorries and the drivers so they don't have to struggle to find somewhere to park up and dump the waste they are leaving in and around the area.

Secondly, are the town's facilities big enough to cope with any more houses and people moving to Haverhill?

The town's rubbish dump area in Chalkstone Way is a nightmare for road users and is completely in the wrong place; can it be moved to a proper site, away from the residential area?

Traffic queues up when the lorries go in and out of the site.

Please contact your local councillors to urge them to get a plan together and help shift this site – the same goes for the sewage works. Can this town cope with any more waste going into the drains if we have any more houses built?

There's nothing left in our High Street

JUST read your article on our High Street in Haverhill – it now consists of bookmakers, charity shops, estate agents, fast food shops and opticians – everything that destroys any High Street and basically it's a dump.

The council have done nothing to improve the situation – the shops are charged the same rates as if they were in Cambridge and the council could do much to improve this but they just sit on their hands. I recently wanted to purchase some trainers and a pair of jeans and ended up driving over to the shopping centre at Braintree. When I contacted a senior member of the local council the reply I got was:

"I'm afraid with the cuts and the Conservatives' policy to not increase council tax the days of investment are gone. With planning law we on the Town Council as well as the decision makers on the borough council have no say on who leases any shop unless the Town Council own them which we don't of course.

"... betting shops are mainly there because of the makeup of the people that live in the town trying to better themselves in their own way and pawnbrokers are there because of the economic situation."

With a new housing estate consisting of at least 2,500 houses being built – will people want to move to Haverhill with a High Street that should be burnt down?

Children go for sponsored walk with their teddy bears

THE children of Haverhill's Stepping Stones pre-school stepped out for a sponsored walk – with their teddies.

The pre-school combined the annual walk with their "Bring a Bear to School" event.

Sponsorship for the walk will go towards funding an outing for the children, and each child who brought a teddy donated £2 to Action Medical Research.

The new mayor of Haverhill, Betty McLatchy, attended the event and waved the children off on their walk. She also donated £10.

The children walked around East Town Park, and stopped for a picnic. Preschool manager Elaine McManus said: "Thanks to all the staff who donated the picnic."

The walk is an annual event for Stepping Stones, and the children posed for the annual photo before setting off.

A feast of fun for the Festival!

HANNAH MIRSKY

GET ready for a summer of festival fun – as the line-up for this year's Haverhill Festival is announced.

Expect Victorian mysteries, teenage soundtracks from the 60s and 70s, and a host of community events this June and July.

The festival runs from June 12 to July 5. The events take place at a variety of venues around the town, including Haverhill Arts Centre, Haverhill Library and the Recreation Ground.

It kicks off at East Town Park, with some outdoor theatre. Chapterhouse Theatre will be performing a Sherlock Holmes mystery on June 12 at 7.30pm, and The Secret Garden at 4pm the following day.

Audience members are invited to bring along a picnic to eat as they watch the shows.

If you prefer music to theatre, late-seventies star Judie Tzuke, famous for her hit Stay With Me Till Dawn, will perform at the Arts Centre on June 18.

Fans of music from the sixties can expect to hear the Kinks' greatest hits when Kast off Kinks play on June 24. The Dreamers, from the same era, will appear at the Arts Centre on July 4.

Festival-goers can also see the pick of London productions screened at the Arts Centre. A Midsummer Night's Dream will be casting its fairy magic on June 28, and the English National Opera's Carmen will be sizzling on July 1.

Comedy fans who can't quite face heading up to Edinburgh this summer can see some highlights of Fringe Comedy at the Haverhill Arts Centre as part of the festival.

Charlie Baker and Mark Steel will be trying out their jokes on a Haverhill audience on July 3. Tickets are discounted if you book for Paul Chowdhry and Rob Beckett on July 10 at the same time.

Shoppers in the town centre will experience a variety of street acts on June 13 and July 4, to liven up their Saturdays.

More outdoor fun will be had on June 27, as the Castle Partnership put on their Community Extravaganza on the Recreation Ground.

Walks in the Haverhill area will be organised as part of the festival, including one focusing on places of worship on June 16, and wildlife walks on June 23 and 30.

Residents interested in history can learn more about riot and rebellion in the local countryside at a talk at the arts centre on June 20.

Arts centre leisure manager Nick Keeble said: "This year I'm really looking forward to our outdoor events."

"There's Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Garden, two street festivals rather than one as in previous years and The Castle Partnership Community Extravaganza looks like it will be a lot of fun."

"This is the 26th year of the Festival and as ever we strive to mix up the best comedy, music, community events, walks and talks."

"On that note the history and wildlife walks, which are all free, should reveal bits of Haverhill that people might not realise are there."

■ The full brochure for the festival is available on Haverhill Arts Centre's Facebook and Twitter pages, and on Haverhill Town Council's website, www.haverhill-tc.gov.uk.

It will also be distributed in next week's Weekly News.

Flowery fun as care home marks Chelsea Show

A DAY club for elderly people has created a paper flower display to rival those at the Chelsea Flower Show.

Members of the Cleves Club at Cleves Place Care Home created paper flowers and a bouquet on Friday to coincide with the flower show, which took place last week.

They were joined by some residents of the home.

Pupils at nearby special independent school Broadlands Hall also joined in. They sent in tissue paper flowers, which were judged alongside those made at the day club by a panel of judges.

Cleves Club manager Oli Ison said: "The flower making, to coincide with Chelsea Flower Show, has proved to be a big hit as an activity for many of the Club members, who love gardens and have enjoyed popping into the Club gardens here for their inspiration. We were also delighted to involve the local Broadlands Hall school pupils, who have also really enjoyed the activity."

Meeting to be held over 7-week road closure

RESIDENTS are being urged to attend a meeting about gas works which will leave a main road closed for seven weeks.

The works, in Clare, involve replacing old iron gas mains with new headwearing plastic pipes.

For National Grid to complete the works, they will have to close Cavendish Road in the village for seven weeks.

The works will begin in Mid-July, and National Grid are holding a public meeting about them next Tuesday, June 2.

The meeting will take place at Clare town hall at 7pm. It will be a chance for residents to find out more about the works, and to ask any questions they have about the works.

Vince Doggett of National Grid said: "We would urge people to attend our information event so we can discuss the work with them, answer their questions and address any concerns."

"It is essential that we replace ageing gas mains so that local residents and businesses can continue to enjoy safe and reliable gas supplies long into the future."

This official diversion route is in place for drivers: A1092 towards Long Melford, A134 towards Bury St Edmunds, A1302, A143 towards Haverhill, A1017, and then the A1092 towards Clare.

Pedestrians will still be able to access Cavendish Road.

Borough councillor for Clare Alaric Pugh, who is also the borough council's cabinet member for planning and growth, also encouraged residents to make their voices heard at Tuesday's meeting. He said: "I understand that this is essential work that is due to be carried out by National Grid from mid July, however seven weeks of disruption is not going to be easy on any of us."

"I also understand that the reasons for the long official diversion route are because Cavendish Road is classed as a main A road into the town.

"We must, however, be realistic – many residents and visitors will already be planning their own shorter routes into and out of the town."

"I will be working with Suffolk County Councillor for Clare Mary Evans, to ensure the town remains accessible and the disruption is minimised as far as it can be."

"Above all else Clare will be open for business and I for one will be pressing this point at the meeting next Tuesday."

New chairman and vice chairman begin to serve on county council

SUFFOLK County Council have welcomed Cllr Jane Storey as their new chairman.

Since May 2013 Cllr Storey has served as chairman of the education and children's services scrutiny committee and also vice-chairman of scrutiny committee.

Cllr Storey is a councillor for Thedwastre North, and has been a councillor for 10 years.

She served as leader of the county council from 2011 to 2013.

She previously worked in accountancy.

She said about taking on the role of council chairman: "I have really enjoyed being vice-chairman for this last year and am looking forward to the next year as chairman."

"The two charities I will be championing during my time as chairman are the Suffolk Accident Rescue Service and the Addington Fund."

Cllr Storey will be supported by county councillor Colin Spence, who represents Sudbury East and Walsingham, as the new vice-chairman.

Cllr Spence previously served as the cabinet member for public protection on the county council.

Help spread the word about town consultation

YOU could help spread the word about the consultation on the Haverhill town centre masterplan.

Phase two of the consultation, in which residents can comment on a draft masterplan document, begins on June 8.

ONE Haverhill are urging residents to make use of a tool called Thunderclap, which helps create a social media buzz.

They are asking anyone in Haverhill who is on social media to visit www.thunderclap.it/projects/26803-haverhill-consultation-masterplan and follow the instructions.

Once the consultation is launched, you can complete the questionnaire at www.onehaverhill.co.uk/masterplan.

Anyone who completes it is encouraged to share "I've had my say, have you?" on social media, and to make use of the hashtag #VisionHaverhill.

Leader of county council confirmed

COLIN Noble was confirmed the new leader of Suffolk County Council last week.

The county councillor has called for councillors to collaborate and communicate across political divides.

He said: "I truly believe that all councillors stand for election because they want to serve the communities that elect them."

Christopher Hudson has become deputy leader of the council, while Richard Smith becomes portfolio holder for council finance.

Sarah Stamp is responsible for communities, Matthew Hicks will look after environment and public protection, and James Finch will be responsible for highways and transport.

Lisa Chambers, for education and skills, and Gordon Jones, for children's services, both keep their roles.

Tony Goldson becomes cabinet member for health and Becky Hopfensberger has changed her role to look after adult services.

In his acceptance speech, Cllr Noble said Suffolk County Council is now seen as "delivering an important fourth utility service, valued by the whole community".

Girl rescued unconscious friend after fall from bike

RESCUE: Charlotte Stamp-Dod, who gave first aid to her friend after she fell off her bike

A HAVERHILL mum says she is "really proud" of her daughter, who pulled an unconscious friend out of the road.

Charlotte Stamp-Dod, whose mum Caroline Zwierzchowska-Dod is head of Clements Primary School, used first aid she learned at Brownies to look after her unconscious friend.

The two 13-year-old girls were walking home from school in Cambridge at around 3pm last Tuesday, May 19, when the incident occurred.

Charlotte was walking next to her friend, who was on a bicycle, when the bike's front wheel caught the kerb. Charlotte's friend fell off, hitting her head and falling unconscious.

Charlotte pulled her out of the road, placed her in the recovery position, and called an ambulance.

Charlotte said: "I was very, very scared. My hands were really shaky. But I couldn't do anything else."

She waited with her unconscious friend until the ambulance arrived.

Luckily Charlotte's friend was not badly hurt. She is now out of hospital, and only suffered a grazed elbow and a bruised head.

Charlotte, who attends Coleridge Community College in Cambridge, received her first aid training at Brownies when she was younger, and from her parents, who both work at primary schools.

Her mum Caroline said: "I'm just really proud that she was able to put it into practice. It's definitely been useful."

"Charlotte just came back and said 'I might have saved someone's life today.'"

Caroline added: "Charlotte did the right thing pulling her out of the road."

"She could easily have been run over. It's worrying to think what might have happened."

Beverly Jones, headteacher at Coleridge Community College said: "Charlotte's actions are a reflection of her overall attitude to life."

"She embraces everything and always makes the most of every opportunity."

"It doesn't surprise me that she used her initiative."

Did you lose your holiday photos?

WERE photographs of your holiday to Thailand stolen by burglars?

Police who have been investigating burglaries in West Suffolk have recovered items and want to reunite a family with a camera memory card.

The Sony SD memory card has a number of photos of a couple who appear to be in their 40s to 60s on holiday. Police say that the couple could be from anywhere in Suffolk, or even further afield.

One of the last photos on the card was taken on June 8 2014. It is thought that the card, and possibly the camera it was in, were stolen after that.

Photos on the memory card include "numerous" holiday shots of a couple taken in July 2012.

The location is thought to be Thailand. There are pictures of beaches and tigers.

A Suffolk police spokeswoman

said: "Both the man and the woman wear glasses and in one photograph, the couple are seated on the same side of a table in a darkened restaurant with the man wearing a white shirt and the woman wearing a white dress."

"In another they are on a wooden bridge with the man in what appears to be a short sleeved white and light pink striped shirt, possibly with a flower or similar in his top pocket, and knee length shorts."

"The woman is in a pale yellowy-green plain T-shirt and three quarter length trousers, holding a black backpack and with a black camera case or similar around her neck."

If you think you are the owner, contact detective sergeant Claire Burgess at Suffolk police on 101.

Sports day gold at primary school

PARENTS and pupils turned out for a sunny sports day on Thursday.

Around 100 parents watched their children take part in races at Clements Primary School in Greenfields Way.

The day was organised by teacher Simon Newnes. Races for nursery and reception children took place in the morning, while Years 1 to 6 had their events in the afternoon.

Headteacher Caroline Zwierzchowska-Dod said: "We had a beautiful sunny day and lots of parents were out in their deckchairs."

"The children were all cheered on. The ones who came in last were just as cheered as the children who came in first."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Photos help quick skin condition diagnosis at GP practices

AN innovative new method of diagnosing skin conditions has gained national recognition. The Telehealth Dermatology Service has been introduced in 24 of the 25 GP practices in West Suffolk.

It means that when a patient goes to a GP with a skin condition they cannot immediately diagnose, the GP can take high-quality images and send them off for diagnosis. In the past they would have had to refer the patient to a dermatologist.

With the new system, a patient can receive a diagnosis within a few hours of seeing their GP.

The Telehealth Dermatology Service is a finalist in the telehealth category of the Health Service Journal's Value in Healthcare Awards.

Homes & Gardens

Archers Interiors always aims to please

EARLIER this year, Archers Interiors celebrated its second anniversary. Terry and Sally Archer, who started the company in 2013, say it has been a very busy two years as they have watched the company grow substantially during this period.

Terry, who runs the showroom-based kitchen, bathroom and bedroom business with help from his wife Sally, has worked in the industry locally for over 25 years.

Archers provides an initial consultation, and follows this with a free of charge no-obligation home survey service. Following the survey, clients are provided with plan and perspective drawings of their room design accompanied by a detailed estimate to supply any units, worktops and appliances required. The design can then be tailored to suit clients' own preferences.

Terry explains: "It's my job to keep a balance between function and appearance." He uses high-quality materials and brands to make the best possible use of the space available.

"A kitchen is a practical place," he continues. His designs will always maximise storage and convenience: and still look great! Archers Interiors has a great reputation, and is regularly recommended by highly satisfied customers.

Archers offers an optional installation service using teams of local tradesmen to carry out the work. If the installation service is not required, a supply-only delivered service is provided.

Now is a great time to visit. Archers is currently having a display clearance sale, with many bargains to be had on kitchen appliances and some bathroom items, including shower enclosures. Make sure you don't miss out!

So if you are looking to improve your home with a beautifully-designed and fitted new kitchen, bathroom or bedroom, just pop in to the showroom at Archers Interiors, Unit 7, Moonhall Business Park, Helions Bumpstead Road, Haverhill, CB9 7AA, or phone (01440) 762118 for a no-obligation consultation.

Take part in a wild rumpus

CHILDHOOD classic Where the Wild Things Are is being celebrated at Haverhill Library this June.

The much-loved story follows Max, a boy who sails away to the land where the wild things are.

The Big Wild Rumpus is a nationwide campaign to recognise Maurice Sendak's 1967 picturebook, which was turned into a film by Spike Jonze in 2009.

The event at Haverhill Library will take place on June 13 from 10.30am to 11.30am.

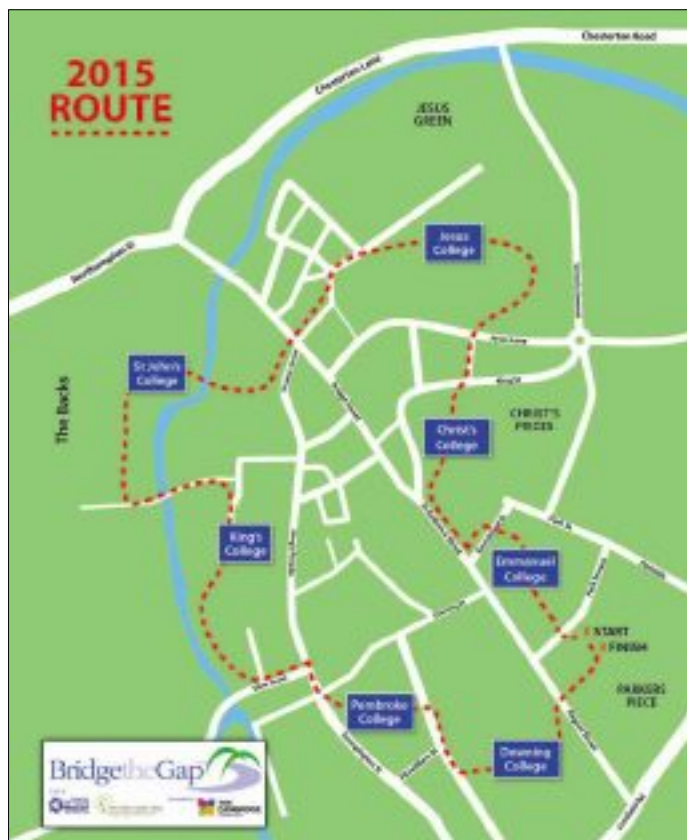

Children will be able to make themselves a crown to wear for the wild rumpus. The book will be read at 11am, and there will be a wild rumpus afterwards.

Both children and adults are welcome to come along in fancy dress.

The event is part of a number of wild rumpuses taking place across Suffolk.

Where the Wild Things Are was borrowed 464 times from Suffolk libraries last year.

Step this way for Bridge the Gap

IT'S back – and organisers are hoping it will be the best ever. Bridge the Gap, the popular charity walk around Cambridge's colleges, has officially launched for 2015.

The date is Sunday, September 13, and the start this year is on Parker's Piece, where the first-ever Bridge the Gap got under way in 2002.

This year's route takes in seven colleges and explores some of their most picturesque and intriguing places.

Last year, because of the 100th anniversary of the start of the First World War, the route focused on college chapels and war memorials, but this year it centres on the colleges' gardens and grounds.

The colleges are Emmanuel, Christ's, Jesus, St John's, King's, Pembroke and Downing, and two charities will benefit – the News community fund Press Relief, and Arthur Rank, which is building a new, state-of-the-art hospice on the edge of the city. Last year's event raised £40,000.

A gathering heralding Bridge the Gap 2015 was held at Cambridge's

CHRIS ELLIOTT

Moller Centre.

Lynn Morgan, chief executive of the Arthur Rank Hospice Charity, said: "Not only does Bridge the Gap provide an excellent opportunity to explore the gorgeous colleges but our share of the money raised helps us to fund the many services provided by the hospice."

"More than 1,000 patients annually receive the support delivered via our in-patient unit, our Hospice at Home team, our therapists and the wide range of complementary services, so every penny raised from this walk really does help."

More details about the walk, and how to register, is online at bridgethegapwalk.org. Or you can ring (01223) 723115.

As well as attracting hundreds of families and individuals, organisers hope businesses and other organisations will get involved too.

Dr Morgan said: "We'd love for more businesses to become involved, either through sponsorship, spreading the word on social media or by getting a team together to take part. It really is a wonderful event which we are proud to be involved with."

Bridge the Gap's main sponsor is The Cambridge Building Society. The society's chief executive Stephen Mitcham said the event is not only an opportunity to give something back to the community, but also provides "excellent brand awareness possibilities".

He added: "It's also a big hit with employees who take part in the walk with their families. It's a truly community event."

Corporate sponsorship packages are available and information packs can be requested from Carole Charter on 0345 601 3344, and some free corporate spaces are available too for teams. More details from Jonathan Tewson on (01223) 434269.

Learn more about arthritis care in town

RESIDENTS are being encouraged to go along to a meeting about medical services in Haverhill.

Consultants and specialist medical nurses are giving a talk about care for people with arthritis and other joint problems in the town.

They will explain about the specialist rheumatology clinics in Haverhill, which recently increased from one to four a month.

The clinics cater for people with inflammatory and non-inflammatory joint problems.

They provide fast access to the right specialist care, reducing the chance that the patient will experience long term problems.

The meeting will take place on June 11 at Haverhill Arts Centre from 2.30pm to 4.30pm.

Dr David O'Reilly, consultant rheumatologist with

HANNAH MIRSKY

West Suffolk Hospital, said: "Arthritis causes pain and inflammation in a joint and affects around 10 million people in the UK.

"During the talk, we will explain more about the causes and symptoms of the condition before describing the specialist service we have developed so that everyone can access the care they need as quickly as possible.

"We would encourage anyone with an interest to come along, take the opportunity to ask questions and find out more about the care we provide."

Mayor of Haverhill Betty McLatchy, who suffers from post-injury arthritis in her knee, urged residents with joint pain to go to the meeting.

She said: "Arthritis is so common in so many people, as there are different types that affect people in many ways. I think anything that helps them is worth doing.

"I would encourage anyone that suffers from arthritis to attend.

"I keep going by doing exercise like Zumba. By talking about it and working with other people it helps keep your mind off it."

Anyone who wants to attend the talk should book a place by ringing 01284 713224 or emailing foundation-trust@wsh.nhs.uk by 1 June.

The rheumatology clinics are held at Haverhill Health Centre in Camps Road on the first and third Wednesday of each month. They are available to both new and follow up patients who can opt to have their consultation at Haverhill when they are referred by their GP.

Still time to nominate in our

THE deadline is approaching for the inaugural Cambridge News Education Awards – and we're looking for entries from the Haverhill area.

We're accepting nominations for our eight categories until tomorrow (Friday) – and the winners will be revealed in a glittering ceremony on June 16 at Cambridge's Westminster College.

Our awards, being held for the first time this year, offer the perfect opportunity to shine a spotlight on a school, teacher or pupil who has gone the extra mile and deserves recognition. They are open to all schools in the Cambridge News/Ely News circulation area.

There's still a chance for you to help make sure your heroes of the local education scene don't go unrecognised – you can make as many nominations as you like in any of the following categories:

- ✓ School of the Year (Primary)
- ✓ School of the Year (Secondary)
- ✓ Pupil of the Year (Primary)
- ✓ Pupil of the Year (Secondary)
- ✓ Teacher of the Year (Primary)
- ✓ Teacher of the Year (Secondary)
- ✓ Support Staff Member

✓ Contribution to the Local Community.

You can make nominations online at cambridge-news.co.uk/educationawards – where you can also read more about the category criteria.

We want to hear from parents, governors, school staff and children to share the success stories of the region's pupils aged 17 and under.

But it's not all about academic excellence – we're looking for stories of personal achievement against the odds, or innovative ways of developing pupils that go beyond league tables.

■ MELLOW CELLO: Gautier Capuçon will perform Dvorak's Cello Concerto at Cambridge Corn Exchange on Friday, April 1

CAMBRIDGE Corn Exchange has announced details of its News-backed 2015/16 Cambridge Classical Concert Series.

Running from October 2015 to June 2016, the series brings some of the world's most exciting orchestras, soloists and conductors to the city's landmark venue, one of the cultural facilities now run by Cambridge Live.

Steve Bagnall, Cambridge Live's managing director, said: "The Cambridge Classical Concert Series continues to go from strength to strength, building audience numbers year on year and playing host to some of the world's greatest musicians.

"Our resident orchestra, the Royal Philharmonic, will perform three of the seven concerts and the final concert in June 2016 features our new Artist in Residence, the award-winning percussionist Dame Evelyn Glennie, whom we're delighted to welcome on board."

Dame Evelyn said: "Having an opportunity for an artist residency at Cambridge is something that really speaks to me, knowing how crucial it is to continue planting seeds for future generations.

"In collaboration with the RPO, we are planning outreach activities that will be about sharing sound discoveries within environments that youngsters may never have experienced before. Together we shall discover and develop our own soundscape composition for all to experience, giving the youngsters an opportunity to appreciate the sound world around them."

The series opens on October 1, when the Dresden Philharmonic Orchestra mark their Corn Exchange debut with a concert conducted by principal conductor Michael Sanderling.

For its first concert of the series, on Tuesday, November 24, the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra bring together one of the finest conductors of his generation, Christoph Koenig, with cellist Laura van der Heijden, who won the 2012 BBC Young Musician competition at just 15 years of age.

This sumptuous evening of Tchaikovsky classics features the light-hearted Roco Variations and the passionate Symphony No 5 at its heart.

A firm favourite with Cambridge audiences, the European Union Chamber Orchestra make a welcome return on Friday, February 5, with an evening of enchanting pieces by Bach, Mozart, Debussy and Hady, directed by Hans-Peter Hofmann.

The Philharmonia Orchestra make their first Corn Exchange appearance on Wednesday, March 2, with a concert conducted by the world famous Vladimir Ashkenazy.

Cambridge audiences have the rare privilege of witnessing one of the world's most celebrated conductors in action when the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra's artistic director and principal conductor Charles Dutoit conducts Gautier Capuçon giving a consummate performance of Dvorak's Cello Concerto on Friday, April 1, in a concert which also includes the Polonaise from Tchaikovsky's Eugene Onegin and Dvorak's Symphony No 9, 'From the New World'.

On Tuesday, April 26, Dame Evelyn Glennie will talk about her life in music and her mission "to teach the world to listen" in an 'in conversation' evening during which she will also play music with pianist Philip Smith.

Dame Evelyn has recently been named as one of two Laureates of the 2015 Polar Music Prize, the music world's equivalent of the Nobel Prize.

For the penultimate concert in the series, the Moscow State Symphony Orchestra present an evening of music by Russian greats on Wednesday, May 18, conducted by Pavel Kogan.

Opening in buoyant mood with Prokofiev's Russian Overture, soloist Nikita Boriso-Glebsky gives a dazzling interpretation of Shostakovich's fiery and exhilarating Violin Concerto No 1 before the orchestra takes the audience on an emotional journey with Rachmaninov's Symphony No 2.

Nicolas Collon conducts the final concert in the series on June 9. Dame Evelyn joins the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra for an explosive performance of new works.

After doing full justice to Michael Daugherty's Dreamachine, Evelyn will play a new composition commissioned to celebrate her 50th birthday year by Debbie Wiseman, who wrote the score for BBC TV's Wolf Hall.

Before each of the concerts, starting at 6pm, there will be pre-concert talks at various locations near the Corn Exchange, including Cambridge University Press Bookshop, Cambridge City Hotel and Heffers Music. Each talk will provide fascinating information about the composers and their works and is free of charge to concert ticket holders.

An exciting range of music education projects will accompany the series, and details will be found at cornex.co.uk/participate as plans firm up throughout the year.

People wishing to take out a full series (seven concert) subscription can enjoy a priority booking period until Thursday, June 25. Six- or four-concert subscriptions open on Tuesday, June 30, and individual concerts go on sale from Tuesday, July 7.

For more information and to book visit cornex.co.uk or call the Corn Exchange Box Office team on (01223) 357851.

BRIDGING the gaps between folk, rock and soul, Danny & The Champions Of The World also have a fantastic name.

Formed in 2007, they are currently made up of frontman Danny (of course) George Wilson, Chris Clarke on bass, Paul Lush on guitar, drummer Steve Brookes, Geoff Widdowson on saxophone and organ, and finally, Henry Senior playing pedal steel guitar.

Ella Walker caught up with namesake Danny to find out about his first gig in Cambridge (no-one turned up) and the band's friendship with The Magic Numbers.

How would you describe your sound?

I grew up on a steady diet of Doo

Wop, Bobby Womack, Everly Brothers, Springsteen and the top 40. I guess it's a mix of all of that stuff! We try and not overthink how we sound.

It's always lovely when you write a song because you have something you'd like to say and then play it with your friends and it comes out the way it comes out, without any discussion of the most commercial or acceptable route.

It will always reflect your influences of course but in a way that's uncontaminated by any rational 'career' based thought process. Ie. We try and just do what we do and make it fun and play it like we mean it.

Are you massive Roald Dahl fans or is the band name just a name?

Yeah of course! I grew up in Roald Dahl world. I was completely immersed in his stories and at the same time was the middle child of five in a pretty crazy household that could well have been central to an imaginary Dahl story itself. Obviously when you're 8 years old and you share a name with a book like Danny, the Champion of the World, the reflected glory feels pretty cool.

What should we expect from this tour?

It'll be pretty much your straight ahead old school rock and roll tour: good fun, great songs, we'll extend the arrangements a bit I think, follow our noses musically, a bit of attempted crowd participation too. I'd like to think it's a pretty unpretentious band, we just want everyone to have a great night.

What do you want people to take from your latest record *What Kind Of Love?

The album is a collection of songs about 'love' in many different ways. It's about wives, kids, friends, life etc. If there's moments where it strikes a chord with someone then that's great, but I'd like to think that it can be just whacked on and you can whistle along. Musically it's just where we're at at the moment.

I guess it's pretty much what you'd call country soul – musically I don't think the band could be in a better pace.

UP FOR GRABS: Kia cee'd for dad's day

Fancy an affordable Top Gear drive, dad?

DADS can be given an extra-special treat this Father's Day – the chance to set a timed lap around the Top Gear Test Track at the wheel of the Reasonably Priced Car.

Deserving dads can climb into the venerable Kia Cee'd, the most-used of all the show's Reasonably Priced Cars, to test their mettle against the actors, singers and other celebrities that all set lap times in it.

And with Top Gear's future secure for now, but the success of a new Clarkson-less format far from assured, there may not be too many more Father's Days to grab this chance.

And that's not the only treat on offer at the Top Gear Experience. Kind (or not so kind) families can buy Dad a hot lap with The Stig himself or an off-road challenge while being fired at by a man in a tank. There's also an option to re-shape your face with a drive in the windscreen-less Ariel Atom.

What's more, with every experience voucher purchased, one additional adult and two kids can go along to the famous Top Gear Test Track for free. There's an off-road driving experience for kids aged 11-17, too.

A special offer for this year's Father's Day is a 15-minute off-road drive and time spent in the Top Gear studio for just £29. Inside the studio are displays of some of the old and battered cars used in challenges on the show, as well as the retired Cool Wall, the stage and of course the presenters' chairs.

Vouchers for experiences can be bought at topgeartrackexperience.com or by calling 0844 2250 767.

Glyn Hopkin's £5k prize

ONE lucky Glyn Hopkin customer will get a very pleasant surprise, by winning £5,000. The prize is being offered to the customer of the 100,000th Nissan registration at Glyn Hopkin, and could be claimed by a customer at any one of the group's 13 Nissan dealerships.

The prize, to commemorate this record milestone, means the lucky recipient can look forward to taking delivery of their new Nissan for much less than they thought thanks to the £5,000 they will receive.

Glyn Hopkin opened its first Nissan showroom in London Road, Romford, Essex in January 1993, going on to expand with a further 12 Nissan dealerships across London and the South-East. The newest additions were opened earlier this year, in East London and Cambridge –underlining Glyn Hopkin's status as one of the Japanese car manufacturer's largest est and most successful representatives in Europe. Glyn Hopkin also operates two of the exclusive, specially-equipped Nismo centres in the UK, offering Nissan performance models and tuning and styling products.

Having opened its first Nissan dealership in Romford with just 21 staff, Glyn Hopkin has expanded as a group to over 600 staff with more than 35 dealerships representing over 10 exciting brands.

Fraser Cohen, managing director of Glyn Hopkin, said: "Our continued success and expansion has been closely tied to Nissan since we founded the business in 1993. Our first dealership was Nissan and our success with the Nissan brand has been integral to our rapid growth since then. We're proud and pleased that many of our customers continue to return helping us achieve our 100,000th Nissan registration. At Glyn Hopkin, we believe that hitting this record milestone is not only down to our award-winning standards of customer service, but also thanks to the quality and reliability of the Nissan vehicles we sell. We look forward to welcoming and celebrating our 100,000th Nissan registration with one lucky Glyn Hopkin customer!"

VOLKSWAGEN PASSAT: Auto-brakes have led to insurance claims drop-off. The Golf, right.

Auto-brake praise for Passat and Golf

THE Volkswagen Golf and Passat models have been praised by vehicle safety experts at the Thatcham Research Centre, who have seen a 45 per cent drop in third party personal injury insurance claims thanks to the fitment of auto-emergency braking systems.

The latest generation Golf went on sale in the UK in January 2013. All except for the entry-level S models have Adaptive Cruise Control (ACC) as standard, with ACC including the radar sensor controlled distance monitoring system Front Assist, as well as city emergency braking and cruise control. Since launch, third party injury claims on the latest Golf are 45 per cent lower than for the equivalent 'Small Family Car Control Group'.

Matthew Avery, Director of Safety at Thatcham Research, said: "These findings are based on the equivalent of more than 7,000 Mk VII Golf models insured for a full 12 months on the road, and come from claims data from our insurance members. When we saw figures based on an initial small sample, we were surprised, as they exceeded our own performance testing. However the figures held up, even after almost doubling the sample group, and have therefore given us a glimpse of what safety on UK roads could look like in the future."

Although such systems are not new, it was the Golf that 'democratised safety' and brought ACC to a wide audience. The system operates over a speed range from 30 to 160km/h (approx. 18 to 99mph) with a manual gearbox and with DSG. In vehicles with DSG, it can intervene to such an extent that the car may be slowed to a complete standstill. In normal driving ACC maintains a preselected speed and a defined distance to the vehicle ahead, and it automatically brakes or accelerates in flowing traffic. Front Assist continually monitors the distance to the traffic ahead and assists the driver in critical situations by preconditioning the brake system and alerting the driver to any required reactions by means of visual and audible warnings. If the driver fails to brake hard enough, the system automatically generates sufficient braking force to help avoid a collision. Should the driver not react at all, Front Assist automatically slows the car so that the speed of any impact is minimised. The system also assists the driver by an alert if the car is getting too close to the vehicle in front. The city emergency braking function is also part of Front Assist and operates at speeds below 30km/h (approx. 18mph).

The new Passat which went on sale in the UK in January also now has ACC as standard on all but S models. With a further developed system, as well as the ability to detect pedestrians, early indications from Thatcham are that the reductions in accidents could be even more significant. ACC is also available on other models including the Polo and Touareg, while city emergency braking is offered on the up! city car.

Avery continues: "If the performance of these latest generation auto-emergency braking systems translates to the real world as expected, then it stands to reason that we should see third party personal injury claims continuing to fall across the board."

Crushing car facts

HPI CrushWatch, from vehicle history check expert HPI, saved more than £56 million worth of vehicles that were being driven without insurance from being crushed at the instruction of the police in 2014.

Shockingly, supercars and prestige vehicles are often being driven by insurance evaders. However, popular, high volume makes of car, such as Vauxhall and Ford top the culprit's chart.

The highest value vehicle HPI CrushWatch identified in 2014, was a Lamborghini Aventador worth £309,000. Rolls-Royce, Bentley and Lamborghini vehicles dominated the list of top 10 highest value cars recoveries. Owners of the Vauxhall Corsa and Vauxhall Astra are the most likely to drive uninsured, with nearly 1,000 of these models being reclaimed in 2014. The Ford Focus came in third, with the Fiesta in fourth, showing that popular, mid-range vehicles are frequently hitting the HPI CrushWatch register.

Working under the umbrella of the Finance & Leasing Association's (FLA) Vehicle Recovery Scheme, HPI CrushWatch brings together motor lenders and law enforcement agencies to enable lenders to reclaim uninsured cars which could have been sold on or scrapped by the police without their knowledge. Not only are the FLA and HPI taking steps towards closing the net on insurance and tax evaders, 000PS: Seized Lamborghini Aventador. An eye-watering number of vehicles end up being crushed they are making UK roads safer for law abiding motorists.

Neil Hodson, managing director for HPI, comments: "Although, the majority of cars we recovered in 2014, are popular, lower priced vehicles, we also helped recover a significant number of high-end makes and models. Along with some astonishing supercars, we recovered a significant number of Audi, BMW, Land Rover and Mercedes-Benz vehicles. It's clear that insurance evasion crosses social and financial boundaries."

The top 10 recoveries by value:

1. Lamborghini Aventador: £309,000
2. Rolls-Royce Wraith: £189,700
3. Rolls-Royce Ghost: £129,300
4. Bentley Continental GT: £114,900
5. Bentley Continental GTC: £98,700
6. Lamborghini Gallardo Spyder: £93,000
7. Lamborghini Gallardo: £90,500
8. Mercedes-Benz G63: £90,500
9. Audi R8 Spyder: £86,100
10. Land Rover Range Rover Autobiography: £83,800

And the top 10 models most commonly recovered are (with total number of cars recovered and their total value):

1. Vauxhall Corsa/503/£1,390,845
2. Vauxhall Astra/431/£2,032,260
3. Ford Focus/358/£2,286,780
4. Ford Fiesta/302/£1,415,750
5. BMW 3 Series/274/£2,235,205
6. Volkswagen Golf/253/£1,910,935
7. Mercedes-Benz C-Class/238/£3,028,715
8. Ford Transit/206/£1,278,505
9. BMW 1 Series/202/£1,910,975
10. Audi A3/153/£1,210,130

THE MASH ROADSTAR: £3,892 retro bike with two years' labour and parts warranty

Haywards adds the Roadstar to lineup

HAYWARDS has added another classic bike to its range in the retro shape of the Mash Roadstar.

"The Mash Roadstar is a 398bhp 29bhp air-cooled single-cylinder four-valve single overhead cam (SOHC) retro-bike which recreates 1970s styling," says Nick Dumbrell, who runs the Haywards workshop. "It's electric start and kick-starting – imagine! – which means you can kick-start it if you want to, it's all the rage, and it's five-speed bike weighing 151kgs and comes with a two-year parts and labour warranty."

"The seat height is 780mm which is suitable for average heights and it comes in Dakota Red or Heritage Black."

"The Mash is another classic line we've added; at 400cc it sits nicely between the Heralds (125cc and 250cc) and the Royal Enfields (500cc), so it's all right."

The Roadstar is "very good value" at £3,892 on the road.

Find out more at mashmotorcycles.co.uk or visit Haywards of Cambridge on the Huntingdon Road for further details (CB3 0LQ) – although it's probably best to call Haywards on (01223) 276128 first.

"The engine resembles the unit on the Honda XBR which is a nice engine," concludes Nick.

Dellar delight as Haverhill come through

ADAM Dellar blasted 67 as Haverhill ran out winners by five wickets at home to Ipswich in Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Division Two.

The visitors were bowled out for 148, with Ben Wilkins taking 3 for 18 and Callum Brunning, captain Joe Woodley and Dan Poole claiming two victims apiece.

In reply, Dellar was ably supported by Sam Hartshorn with 27, before Anthony Phillips' unbeaten 31 helped Haverhill across the line with 154 for 5.

Haverhill II succumbed by one wicket at Yoxford in Division Four.

Andy Brightmore and skipper Joe Robins carried their bats as Weston Colville thrashed Abington by 10 wickets in Tucker Gardner Cambridgeshire & Huntingdonshire Premier League, Division Two.

Scott Bishop grabbed 4 for 21 and Robins 3 for 26 as Abington were dismissed for 114.

Openers Brightmore (50 not out) and Robins (56 not out) responded with a big-hitting display, which saw the pair smack 21 fours between them, to help Colville through to a comfortable triumph.

Wilby wants academy to continue its success

PAUL Wilby praised the success of Haverhill's junior academy after the first of this year's two fundraising competitions for it.

David Roope, Tim Daniels, Geoff Bush and Martin Mansfield triumphed in the team event, which was played as stableford teams of four with the best two scores counting.

Haverhill head professional Wilby was delighted to see the event being well-supported and is keen to keep the academy producing young players.

"The academy has been running for nearly seven years now and has created many young single-figure golfers including Lewis Whiting, who plays off a handicap of one, and he is a regular England international squad player," said Wilby.

"Having watched Lewis progress from a 36 handicap to where he is today is a real treat for all at Haverhill and we wish him all the best with his golfing career.

"We have also helped many other juniors grow in confidence and enjoy the game, whatever their standard of play."

Mick Dalena, Chris Mellings, Pat McGarr and Roger Hartley were second, with Lawrence Hastie, James Hastie, Paul King and Wayne Cook taking third.

The club's juniors booked their place in the third round of the Suffolk Junior Team Championship, securing victory away to West Suffolk Golf Centre.

James Iron, Fiona Stokes and Josh Hulyer finished with a combined score of 101, with Hulyer scoring 38 on his own.

The Tolly Cup team held off a comeback in the afternoon to beat Felixstowe by two holes to go through to the next round.

Haverhill were six up after the morning foursomes, but the visitors' fought back in the singles. However, the home side had the edge and went through to face West Suffolk on June 21.

But the Parks team were beaten by the same margin away to Diss.

Keith McCallum won the seniors' nine-hole qualifier with 19 points. Tom Walker was runner-up on 17 and Colin Durston was one back in third.

Haverhill host their charity golf day on Saturday, June 13, which will raise funds for St Nicholas Hospice and the National Autistic Society.

Teams are invited to enter from club members and guests, with entry being £25 for HGC members and £35 for visitors.
